

Professional certification from The Chief of Staff Association brings a wide range of benefits to your career and your organisation.

The certification process is simple, accessible, and integrated, so you can easily track your progress and share your achievements as you go.

There are three levels of certification, attainable through online study and our executive education courses at world leading universities.

As soon as you become a Certified Chief of Staff®, your certificate is generated automatically on our online portal for you to download and share.

The certification portal will display all your achievements as you progress, and signpost you to new ones.

As well as attaining Certified Chief of Staff® status, you will also have access to a shareable list of all your other Micro-credentials...

...you can post new achievements to LinkedIn with a click...

...and when you move roles, employers can validate your certification status in seconds.

So by keeping your membership active and participating in our professional development courses, you can maintain your certification, continue enjoying the benefits of our community and help to shape the role of Chiefs of Staff into the future.

To find out more about The Chief of Staff Association certification journey visit <URL link>.